BARBARA A. EVERLY, CLERK

On this 7 day of December, 1987, the Court has been informed by counsel for the parties that the parties have reached a compromise of all disputed claims as shown by the pleadings and that judgment should be entered to facilitate that compromise.

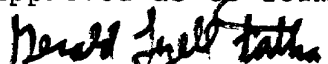

The Court finds that it has jurisdiction of the parties and the subject matter and that the indebtedness of Defendant to Plaintiff is nondischargeable to the extent referred to below.

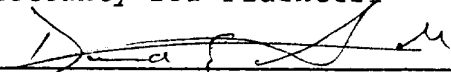

IT IS ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that Plaintiff, American Trust and Savings Bank, have and recover judgment against Defendant, Michael L. Wendt, in the amount of One Hundred Ninety-six Thousand, Nine Hundred Four Dollars ($196,904) with no interest to accrue thereon. However, no execution shall issue on the judgment for as long as Steven J. Wendt and Rebecca M. Wendt and Larry R. Wendt are current under their obligations as set forth in their Plans of Reorganization filed in this Court, Bankruptcy Number 84-00373 and Bankruptcy Number 84-00372, respectively. Further, Plaintiff may not transcribe or transfer entry of this judgment to any other jurisdiction or court for as long as Steven J. Wendt and Rebecca M. Wendt and Larry R. Wendt are current under their obligations as set forth in their Plans of Reorganization referred to above. Any payments received by Plaintiff from Steven J. Wendt, Rebecca M. Wendt or Larry R. Wendt under that part of their respective Plans of Reorganization related to their guarantees of Defendant's indebtedness to Plaintiff shall reduce the judgment rendered against Defendant, and any payment received by Plaintiff from Defendant shall reduce the amount to be paid by Steven J. Wendt, Rebecca M. Wendt and Larry R. Wendt under that part of their Plans of Reorganization related to their guarantees of Defendant's indebtedness to Plaintiff.
